Our database captures state and federal laws and incentives related to alternative fuels and vehicles, air quality, fuel efficiency, and other transportation-related topics. State-level information is updated annually after each state's legislative session ends. To access state information, select a state from the map below. Federal information is updated after enacted legislation is signed into law. Select the Federal Incentives and Laws link at right for the latest federal-level information.

In August 2005 the President signed the Energy Policy Act (EPO Act) of 2005 (HR6). We summarized selected sections from EPO Act 2005 that relate to alternative fuels and vehicles, advanced technologies, and transportation. View EPO Act 2005 summaries.
